History recorded that when General Burgoyne surveyed the scene he said of Mount Independence, "Where a goat can climb, a man can climb. Where a man can climb he can drag a cannon." The General then set his men to emulating the mountain goats dragging their cannon. He set up fortifications on the heights overlooking Fort Ticonderoga and forced one of its 3 defeats.

The fort has a record unequalled by any other fort in the world. It was attacked 6 times in 20 years, such was its strategic importance as a gateway to Canada, and was successfully defended 3 times.

Walking on the grounds and walls of this fort is a thrill like walking back into history in the pages of "Northwest Passage" or the other books by Kenneth Roberts. Seeing the actual beds in the quarters, it is a shock to see how small these men were in stature as opposed to the giants they were in what they accomplished. The fort is still under reconstruction thanks to the concern of one American family. The site containing the ruins was purchased by William Ferris Pell in 1820. He began the preservation. Succeeding generations of the family continued the preservation and in 1908 William Pell's great grandson, Stephen Pell, began the restoration of the fort and the collection in its military museum, and that construction continues under John H.G. Pell, the great great grandson of William Ferris Pell.

The fortress walls are complete and

FORT TICONDEROGA - The very sound of its name has a bite and roll to it like the roll of drums. This fortress guards the entrance from Lake George to Lake Champlain like the cork contains the bottle. The view from its battlements is magnificent as Mount Independence soars to its imposing height across on the Vermont shore.

Selectmen's Meeting

JULY 9, 1985 - by VIRGINIA ARRAL

ADOPTED A BOAT TOWING POLICY

At last Tuesday's Board of Selectmen's meeting a boat towing policy was adopted, as recommended by Harbormaster Steve Mach.

The first regulation is to check the condition of the boat and the persons on board to determine: 1) Is anyone injured? 2) Is the boat in danger of sinking? 3) Has everyone put on life jackets? 4) Be sure boat has anchor and it is set and holding. 5) Find location of boat and determine if it is a hazard to navigation.

The second rule is if NO one is injured and boat is NOT sinking and is in NO other danger; we can ONLY offer them COMMERCIAL ASSISTANCE. Be sure that anchor is set and holding.

The third policy is to recommend commercial assistance of the following concerns: Mattapoisett Boatyard, Inc., 758-3812, seven days a week during daylight hours they will handle small boats and boats that are out of fuel, etc. Collyer Brothers, Inc., with four telephone numbers to be

ACTIONS ON ZONING BY-LAWS

Building Inspector David E. Crook reported by letter on actions he has taken on zoning by-laws adopted at the last annual town meeting as follows:

Georgie's Power Equipment, 91 County Road, was advised to remove its portable signs by July 12. The inspector will check again on that date to see if his direction has been carried out.

Also advised was Roxanne B. Bungert, 20 Winnatuxett Beach Road, that the excavated area on Long Plain Road is to be filled with excess soil from the nearby road project and not to be filled wholly or partially with stumps; the fence erected to protect the public is to remain in place until the excavated area is completely filled. The Cease and Desist order will not be lifted until the excavating area is completely filled. Crook will have to be notified of the days the fill will be trucked. This decision was made following a Show Cause Hearing held on June 24 by the Soil Conservation Board.

The inspector advised Donald Morgan, 355 Marion Road, Middleboro that he must remove a trailer on Cove Street, Angelica Avenue because he does not have a permit for a trailer at that location issued by the Selectmen. This action was taken following a complaint and investigation.

In other business Selectmen:

ACCEPTED WITH REGRET the resignation of senior aide Bernice Manchester from her duties in the Council on Aging office. Resigning for personal reasons, her resignation will be effective as of Friday, July 12. Select-

MET with Rebecca McCullough, president of the Crescent Beach Association, to discuss the association's request for the installation of street signs in the beach area. She noted some of the older, smaller signs have been vandalized. She suggested newer, stronger poles. She added that EMT's have trouble finding roads in that section.

Selectmen agreed to speak to Highway Surveyor Manuel R. Nunes to obtain signs. Ms. McCullough noted she would like to get something in writing that signs will be installed.

Board of Appeals

by VIRGINIA ARRAL

Following a public hearing held on March 22nd, the application of the Mattapoisett Housing Authority to add two, one-bedroom wheelchair handicap units and twenty spaces in the parking lot to the existing Housing for the Elderly at 1 Acushnet Road was approved. The vote was unanimous.

Following a public hearing on May 16th, the Appeals Board voted on June 14 to deny the petition of John F. and Concetta Reynolds, 95 Mattapoisett Neck Road, to a variance to create two substandard lots. The board found no hardship existed and found no special circumstances with regards to the lot or structures that would warrant the granting of a variance.

Following a public hearing on May 16, the board granted a Special Permit to Janice E. and Leonard N. Francoeur, 28 County Road, to erect an 8 foot 9 inch by 8 foot sawdust shed to be attached to an existing building. The permission was granted with certain conditions and safeguards as to the two walls that abut the existing building shall be constructed of fire-coded sheetrock.

Following a May 16th public hearing, John

AVAILABLE FOR HARBOR DAYS

Exactly 100 Mattapoisett Center School Cup Plates will be offered for sale during "Harbor Days" at the Park on the bay July 20 and 21 at a booth being shared by Fairhaven Savings Bank and "Dollars for Scholars".

Orders for the limited edition (500) Pairpoint plate, designed by George C. Avila for the Rogers' Series, sponsored by Fairhaven Savings Bank, have come from as far away as Fargo, South Dakota. Another order, from Levittown, PA., was from Mrs. Theophilus Holcombe who used to teach third grade at the Center School and was just delighted to discover such a nice souvenir was now available.

The Mattapoisett Center School Cup Plate is #380 in the Pairpoint Catalog and #5 in the Rogers-of-Fairhaven series. All profits from the sale of this plate benefit the Community Trust Fund, established by the Fairhaven Savings Bank, to support worthy community projects.

Do plan to drop in some afternoon.... not for tea but to view this exhibit and to see the new Mendell Wing of the Museum.

Tables will be set for handcrafts such as knit, crochet and embroidery items, handcrafts from foreign countries; toys; homemade candy; and home-cooked foods including cakes, pies, cookies, beans and casseroles.

Other tables will sell old-fashioned cheddar cheese; plants and flowers; white elephants; books both old and new; and others. There will be a special "Heifer Project" exhibit.

For the children there will be a midway, grabs and the tempting cotton candy. One of the largest attractions will be the "pound auction" where a pound of this and that will be auctioned off.

TO STAGE "THE DINING ROOM"- STARTS SATURDAY

Remember your family dining room, when you were a kid? All those wonderful meals. Those pleasant family conversations, some that still stick in your craw? Very heavy things sometimes occurred in the dining room; interogations, confessions, revelations.

Playwright A.R. Gurney, Jr. has constructed in "The Dining Room" scene after scene which will stir the memory. Especially if you are of the W.A.S.P. persuasion, though the play has a universal appeal.

Eight actors portray fifty characters in seventeen overlapping scenes depicting behavior of the W.A.S.P. culture. "The Dining Room" is a gentle and always perceptive roller-coaster ride through the mores of the children of our founding fathers. Be prepared to laugh and cry in recognition of relatives, friends, neighbors, and, perhaps, even yourselves.

Directed by David B. Boyce and produced by Barbara S. Carns, the Marion Art Center Players present Jessica Shepardson, Gail Roberts, Christine Picazio, Richard Des-

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Benjamin D. Cushing Auxiliary of Marion Jr. Past President T. Jeanine Giannelli was honored at this year's convention by being chosen as one of the Outstanding Presidents of the Year and runner-up in her division as President of the Year. This was not an easy accomplishment for Jeannine as the decisions are based on reports turned into State headquarters from all over the state. There are four divisions throughout the state with a winner and runner-up in each.

Jannine was presented with the awards by then State President Louise Savello. Through the year, Jeannine, though experiencing health problems, overcame the obstacles and dedicated herself to the tasks at hand. She has been very prominent at the Roland Thatcher Nursing Home where she visits and works with the patients. The Brockton VA Hospital was also one of Jeannine's pet projects. It was through her efforts that Marion had two very successful poppy drives. And as one of her last specialties before retiring from office, Jeannine made 80 tray favors for Tobey Hospital in recognition of Flag Day.

The Marion Auxiliary is very proud to have Jeannine as one of their members and would like to publicly extend their congratulations and thank you for a terrific year.

ROPEWALK IN MATTAPOISETT RECEIVES AWARD

Six local firms have received Plymouth County's semi-annual Renaissance Award for achievement in the rehabilitation and revitalization of commercial and industrial properties. The buildings designated for the award include an apartment complex, a small shopping mall, office buildings, a bank headquarters and a convenience store.

The Renaissance Award winners were announced recently by the Plymouth County Commissioners. The winners are 859 Associates Easton Ltd., owner and manager of the Courtside Manor in Brockton; Ropewalk Associates, Owner of The Ropewalk in Mattapoisett; Narrows Ltd., owners of Narrows Ltd. in Wareham; Independence Insurance Co., owners of 11 Centre Avenue in Abington; Middleborough Trust Col in Middleborough; and Paul G. Behan, owner of Village Mini Mart in Hanson.

A hardware store built in 1945 was renovated in Mattapoisett to become a small shopping center. The Ropewalk, at 33 County Road, is owned by Ted and Wayne Walega of Ropewalk Associates. After operating it as a store for many years. Ropewalk Associates launched renovation work on the building under a tight three-month construction schedule which ended in November 1984.

The building's 10,000 square foot warehouse and retail hardware facilities were transformed into retail space for six stores. The building now houses a deli, a gift and apparel store, a women's clothing store, children's clothing store, toy store and clock store. An electronic teller is also in the center.

In addition to creating a pleasant shopping environment, the complex maintained part of the local history by being

PLENTY OF MUSIC AT HERITAGE PLANTATION

There will be plenty of music at Heritage Plantation, beginning Wednesday, July 17, when the Bourbon Street Paraders perform at 7:30 p.m., then classical music buffs will enjoy the Empire Brass Quintet Saturday, July 20, at 7:30 p.m.

Nothing is more American then Dixieland Jazz, and Lee Childs and The Bourbon Street Players play it better than most. After an absence of a few years the popular jazz band will return to the museum's outside concert stage.

The Bourbon Street Paraders presents a fun show that combines the best of traditional jazz and swing era classics.

Saturday evening the tempo changes when the popular Empire Brass Quintet exhibit virtuosity and versatility far beyond the normal call of concert duty. Taking time out from their summer residence in Tanglewood, the Quintet will plan an all classical music program to commemorate the 300th An-

JOHN SALERNO'S BIG BAND
TO PERFORM AT HERITAGE PLANTATION

John Salerno's Big Band will perform swing and sway music at Heritage Plantation of Sandwich Wednesday, July 24th, at 7:30 p.m. The performance will be held on the outside concert stage, under the stars.

It's hard to resist the swinging sounds of Glenn Miller, Tommy Dorsey and others when Salerno's Big Band fills the stage.

Salerno's Big Band has been keeping the dinner crowd at the Coonamessett Inn, Falmouth entertained on Sunday nights. The Band's exuberance is catching and the music appeals to both young and old. It's toe-tapping music all the way. The Band has recorded two albums and Salerno has worked with such musical greats as Dinah Shore and Cab Calloway.

Membership, as well as admission tickets to the Museum for the day, will be honored for these concerts and will include admission to all the museum buildings, exhibitions and grounds. Tickets are $5. for adults, children under 12, $2.; five and under are free.

the Wareham Arts Lottery Council, will present a brand new play by James W. Anderson, Jr., The Committee, for one performance only, Sunday, July 28th, at 8 p.m., in the air-conditioned Gateway Playhouse off Route 6 behind the Wareham Town Hall.

The Committee has played at Boston's famed Lyric Stage earlier this year in its New England premiere. It presents bachelors and bachelorettes at a party thrown by older folks. Now is the time to appear before The Committee. The Committee is the married people you've known who never tell single people the truth; a bittersweet comedy. A reception of wine and cheese will follow for playwright James W. Anderson, Jr. who will be in attendance. For ticket information phone 295-6768. The Committee stars Kay Carter Blaha, Tom Svingen, Barbara Pettis, Martin Hanley, Cindy Berg, Jim Sheehan and Jody Maruca, members of the original Boston cast, and The Walpole Footlighters. Join with something experimental at The Gateway Playhouse and come before The Committee.

THE FOURPOSTER: The Happy Marriage Romantic Comedy Coming Soon. The Gateway Playhouse will take us back to the turn of the century when it reunites those "Hatful of Rain" stars on a marital comedy romance trip. Sandee Freitas and Michael Gulizia play the couple made known on stage by Jessica Tandy and Hume Cronyn; and on screen by Rex Harrison and Lilli Palmer in the French romantic comedy farce all about the bed, The Fourposter. Direction is by Niels Miller, noted Broadway stage actor. Performances of the comedy The Fourposter are three weekends only: August 16, 17, 23, 24, 30, 31 at 8 p.m. Make your reservations today by phoning 295-6768.

A LOVELY LIGHT tells a beautiful romantic story. Edna St. Vincent Millay, a prime early 20th century poetic force, will have her life unfold in a performance by award-winning actress Kay Carter Blaha at The Gate-

WAMPANOAG WEDDING ON JULY 20

Visitors to the Wampanoag Summer Encampment at Plimoth Plantation can participate in dancing and singing that will follow a traditional Wampanoag wedding ceremony on Saturday, July 20th.

Wampanoag women will spend the morning of this celebration preparing the wedding feast of corn, fish and fowl.

At midday the Wampanoag tribe, dressed in their finest deerskins, will gather around the couple as the Sachem pronounces them husband and wife. The Sachem will advise the couple to be faithful and to bring forth strong children.

Relatives and friends will present the couple with household goods -- woven mats, baskets, animal skins and various utensils.

After the ceremony visitors will be invited to join the Wampanoag in their festive songs and dances as they celebrate the union of two families and the continuation of the life cycle for the People of the Dawn.

The Wampanoag Indian Campsite is a major outdoor exhibit where interpreters tell visitors of the culture and history of the native people who greeted the Pilgrims. There, Wampanoag staff have constructed a wetu, a dome-shaped dwelling of bent saplings covered with woven reed mats. Inside the wetu visitors may sit on a bed covered with beaver pelts and savor an authentic native environment. There are baskets, hemp bags filled with seeds, and a hoe made from the shoulder blade of a deer. A kettle rests above the cooking pit in the center of the dirt floor. An interpreter may tell an old Indian tale.

Open every day from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., Plimoth Plantation, the living history museum of 17th century Plymouth, is located on Warren Avenue (Route 3A), just three miles south of downtown Plymouth. Its exhibits include the full scale replica Mayflower II docked at State Pier in Plymouth

SCRIMSHAW EXHIBIT OPENS AT GREEN BRIAR

An exhibit of scrimshaw by Nancy Lyon of Marstons Mills will open on Sunday, July 21st, at the Green Briar Nature Center in East Sandwich. Ms. Lyon has created engravings of twenty-five native birds in 100-year-old sperm whale teeth. The exhibit is on loan from Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Sears of Centerville.

What began as a hobby during her years in art school soon developed into a business for Ms. Lyon. Unlike most scrimshanders, she prefers nature and wildlife scenes to nautical themes. She is a member of the

YOUTH ORCHESTRA REGISTRATION OPENS AT PBT

Priscilla Beach Theatre is receiving applications for its new Youth Orchestra program beginning August 1 and running through September 7 on Wednesday evenings from 6:30 to 9:30 at the theatre grounds in Plymouth. Student musicians of woodwinds, strings, percussions and brass of the ages 13-19 may apply by calling the theatre at 224-4888.

The Youth Orchestra program is an educational workshop where student musicians study with master orchestra and symphony performers in mastering specific pieces from a Broadway musical score. The student is coached in style, rhythm, tempo and ensemble playing techniques, which are then applied to his/her actual performance of the actual piece in a live theatre production at the theatre.

In the August session student musicians will study the Broadway musical score of "Carnival", under the guidance and musical direction of leading New England musicians and teachers of music, David Cross (reeds), Ron Sylvester (brass), Ted Rounds (percussion), and Anne Pizer (strings). Elaine Baker will conduct and act as pianist for the actual performance of "Carnival" on September 5, 6, 7 at 8:30 p.m.

This unique and special program is directed by leading masters in the field of music.
